Go out for free: Lowell Ryan Projects in Mid-City just opened two new free exhibitions: “William Bradley: Giant Country” and “Madison Brooks: Cone Age.” Bradley’s solo exhibition shares large-scale abstract paintings and collages that pay homage to his childhood home of Yorkshire, England, and the pressures of filling the giant shoes of renowned artists that have come from the region (David Hockney, Barbara Hepworth and John Hoyland to name a few). Brooks’ exhibition is the first solo show presented in the gallery’s outdoor garden. Both exhibits run until Oct. 7, and the gallery is open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday. For more information, visit Lowell Ryan Projects’ website.
